

On atoms of the lattice of radicals of associative rings

Edmund R. Puczyłowski

Abstract. Radical classes of associative rings form a lattice with respect to the order given by inclusion. There were many studies on properties of this lattice. One of the most important problems in the area concerns a description of its atoms; in particular for which simple rings the lower radicals determined by such rings are atoms. The aim of the talk is to present some results concerning that problem.